Midlothian ISD Opening Express Care Clinic with Methodist Mansfield Medical Center

MISD Express Care Clinic offers affordable care to school district employees and dependents

Midlothian Independent School District officially opened a wellness clinic on April 8 to provide district employees and their dependents with access to low-cost and convenient health care. The school board approved plans to move forward with the MISD Express Care Clinic in partnership with Methodist Medical Group, a Texas not-for-profit health corporation associated with Methodist Mansfield Medical Center.

“Our top priority is taking care of the safety and well-being of everyone in our MISD family, and the MISD Express Care Clinic is a great new avenue for us to support our teachers and staff,” Superintendent of Schools Lane Ledbetter said.

“We value our partnership with Methodist Mansfield Medical Center and appreciate their commitment to our community.”

The MISD Express Care Clinic, operated by the Methodist Medical Group will be open from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. on weekdays to accommodate district employees after hours when most physician offices are closed. The staff clinic will provide basic primary care with a focus on wellness and prevention. A virtual clinic is also available from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on weekdays from any internet-capable device.

“This innovative wellness clinic is conveniently located at 2230 Bryan Place, Suite 200 and includes a virtual clinic accessible first class furnishings and equipment and electronic medical records,” said Methodist Mansfield and Methodist Midlothian President Juan Fresquez. “A licensed nurse practitioner and medical assistant under the direction of Jeff McDaniel, a board-certified physician will lead the clinic. Methodist Midlothian and Methodist Mansfield are dedicated to continuing our tradition of excellence and quality care in Ellis County by providing for the health of our community.”
